Reading Assignments:

It is strongly recommended that each student read all assigned material prior to class and fully participate in class discussions and activities. To that avail, by mandate of the department students must purchase prior to September 3rd. Individuals who do not fulfill this requirement will be reported to the Chair of MCO. Additionally, reading assignments will be applied to various class discussions, written exams, major writing assignments and application exercises. Though you may not be asked verbatim to recite what you have read, you will be asked to use your knowledge in any related scenario. It is important to remember that your readings may also be assigned readings from professional journals, academic journals, newspapers, news magazines, trade magazines or internet documents during the course of the semester.

3. Midterm and Final Exams 30%

A basic measure of student knowledge retention comes in the form of examinations. These are a necessary tool not only for the instructor but also the student to identify areas of strength and improvements. This course will have two exams: a midterm and a final both weighted at 20%. Both exams will be comprehensive meaning content discussed in class, assigned readings, supplemental readings, in class and outside class screenings, special after class meetings are considered open for evaluation. Exams are essay based and could have multiple solutions. Your objective during the exam is to apply your knowledge base to any given scenario within the context of this course. Make up exams traditionally are not offered. In the event a student is unable to take their exam as scheduled it is the student's responsibility to schedule the make up exam with the instructor. In order to sit for a make up exam, the student must provide the instructor with documentation from either a) Student Affairs, b) a medical professional, or c) an entity approved by Student Affairs. This is the only way an exam will be made up. Additionally, if a student foresees an absence that may coincide with an examination, it again is the student's responsibility to notify the instructor prior to their departure so that an exam may be made up. This will only be allowed with the caveats listed previously: documentation from either: a) Student Affairs, b) a medical professional, or c) an entity approved by Student Affairs. Individuals who choose not to adhere to this policy will receive a grade of zero (0) for the examination. Additionally, students who received a qualified documented excuse and fail to sit for the exam at the agreed upon time by the instructor will receive a grade of zero (0).

Class Attendance: The attendance policy printed in the Shaw University Undergraduate Catalogue will be enforced. When a student is unable to attend class, it is the student's responsibility to call the professor in advance, whenever possible. It is the student's responsibility to obtain the notes, handouts, or other material for the missed class. Students remain responsible for all assignments due during the missed class. An absence does not excuse the student from any work or due dates. Attendance will be taken at the beginning of each class and students not present at that time will be marked absent. Students who come in late are required to inform the instructor immediately following that class period in order to be counted late rather than absent.

Class attendance is mandated for all Shaw University students. Students are responsible for attending class on time and adhering to the University's Class Attendance Policy. The Attendance Policy is printed in the Shaw University Undergraduate Catalogue and shall be enforced. Each student is allowed as many unexcused absences per semester as the class meets per week.

Time Class Meets Per Week	Unexcused Absences Allowed

Students who exceed the number of unexcused absences run the risk of failing the course. Though a 4th absence is not a guarantee of a failing grade, one simply cannot pass a course with excessive absences. If a student arrives at 5 unexcused absences, that student will be reported to the department chair with a recommendation that the student receive a grade of WF (withdrawal failure) for the course. If you foresee your attendance in this course to be a problem it is strongly recommended that you withdraw immediately.

Course Plagiarizing/Cheating:

Plagiarism (using another's work as your own, whether you put it in your own words or keep it in the original words) and cheating are serious offenses and will be treated as such. A student who plagiarizes or cheats – whether giving or receiving information – will receive a grade of zero on that particular exam or paper, and WILL receive a grade of F for the course.

If you have questions about the concept of plagiarism please use the Purdue website listed on Blackboard and/or talk with your instructor.

COURSE POLICIES

1. Maintain a folder of ALL work submitted to your instructor. Accidents DO happen; and it is your responsibility to keep a copy of your work for this class. Without such documentation, I am unable to assign a grade for the work.
2. When submitting assignments, please follow the guidelines specific for the AP style. Papers will be returned if there is not a citation page included. All papers should be submitted typed, double spaced, 12 point font (NO COURIER) with one inch margins on all sides of the paper. Papers failing to adhere to these specifications will either be returned to the student upgraded or receive a grade reduction. NO internet sources can be used as source citations, unless approved in advance.
3. All assignments MUST BE SUBMITTED ON TIME. In the event of submitting a late assignment, please note harsh penalties will result i.e. a whole letter grade reduction or even a grade of zero for that assignment. If you miss an assignment due to medical or family emergencies, please notify me within one day with appropriate documentation i.e. medical documents. Excused absences, including those for official school business will be offered extended time to make up the assignment; however you are encouraged to make an effort to submit the assignment early if at all possible.
4. CELL PHONES, PAGERS, TWO-WAYS, I Pods and other portable electronic devices are strictly prohibited during class. Students must deactivate these devices prior to class starting unless there is an eminent life changing event that can be documented by a medical personnel or the university. 1st offense you will receive an oral warning and your phone will be collected and answered in class. 2nd offense will result in written warning and may result in phone being collected and turned over to the Vice President of Student Affairs. A 3rd offense will result in the student dropped for the course receiving a final grade of an F. Students are permitted to use laptop computers for the purposes of taking notes, audio visual presentation devices, and internet search tools during academic class instruction.
5. Plagiarism is defined as the appropriation or presentation of someone else's ideas, language, or designs as your own. You should be aware of the strong sanctions against plagiarism as stated in the university code of conduct. If proven, a charge of plagiarism will result in an automatic "F" in the course and possible expulsion. Please be sure to consult with me if you have any questions about plagiarism or how to properly acknowledge sources within the context of your assignments.
6. Unauthorized use of internet will not be tolerated. Unauthorized use is defined as web surfing during class time, use of internet during closed book exams, installing software applications without the written approval of ITS. Individuals proven - responsible for such infractions are subject to punitive action by the instructor and the university.

7. Sexual harassment of any kind will not be tolerated. Read the university guidelines on sexual harassment.
 8. Dress: Business Casual mandatory. Our class takes place within the hours of 9:30 AM to 10:45AM. Please dress accordingly as our classes are business meetings. Failure to come to class dressed appropriately will result in an unexcused absence. We are communications majors and how you dress sends a message either of being professional or unprofessional. Fridays are reserved as dress down days but again business casual is the key.
 9. This syllabus is subject to change. However, as you should, I consider this document a statement of goals attempted and/or completed by the semester's end.

Student Classroom Decorum Expectations

To enhance the learning atmosphere of the classroom, students are expected to dress and behave in a fashion conducive to learning in the classroom. More specifically, students will refrain from disruptive classroom behavior (i. e., talking to classmates, disrespectful responses to teacher instructions; swearing; wearing clothes that impede academic learning such as but not limited to, wearing body-revealing clothing and excessively baggy pants; hats/caps, and/or headdress). Students will turn off telephones prior to entering the classroom. Students who exhibit the behaviors described above, or similar behaviors will be immediately dismissed from class at the third documented offense. The student will be readmitted to class only following a decision by the department chair. The student may appeal the decision of the department chair to the Dean of the College offering the course, and, subsequently, to the Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs, and then to the President of Shaw University. The decision of the President will be final. Failure to follow the procedures herein outlined will result in termination of the appeal, and revert to the decision of the department chair.

Each behavior construed by the teacher/professor as non-contributive to learning will be recorded, properly documented, and appropriately reported to the student and to the chair of the academic department offering the course. The report will be in written form with a copy provided to both the student and the department chair. The faculty member should retain a copy for his/her own records. Additional student behavior codes may be found in Student Affairs.
